The Universidad Central del Caribe Obstetrics and Gynecology Interest Group (UCC OB/GYN Interest Group) is a student organization committed to inspiring and supporting medical students interested in women's reproductive health. Our goal is to provide educational spaces, practical experiences, and mentorship to explore careers in gynecology and obstetrics. We focus on offering activities such as clinical skills workshops (suturing, pelvic exams), discussions with mentors and/or fellow residents, and we use our social media to educate and raise awareness about important topics within reproductive health, health equity, and care for vulnerable communities. This group is an inclusive space designed for those looking to learn, grow, and make a difference in the field of women's health!
